

Ministry Covenant

Heavenly Father, I come to You in the name of Your perfect son Jesus Christ. Father, I want to touch lives for You. I want You to use me to help families, help marriages, and help those who are struggling and in need. I want to help those who are hungry and need to have someone care and intercede for them. I want to counsel people so they can overcome the evil one, and become everything You called them to be. I want to teach people to be strong in faith, fierce in warfare, wise in their ways, fruitful in everything, and loving in their hearts. So that Jesus may get the Bride He deserves.

Heavenly Father, I promise not to turn away anyone whom You send to me. I promise to train them up in Your ways, to encourage them, and bless them. I promise to protect marriages and families, and lead people away from divorce. I promise to teach people to put God first in their marriages, and be united with each other. I promise to show people love, even when they don't deserve it.

Heavenly Father, I need Your help. I need You to strengthen me, to give me wisdom, understanding, and ministry training. So that I can be most helpful, and avoid mistakes. Father, I need to have Your prophetic gifts, to be filled with the Holy Spirit, so that I can see with Your eyes, and know what the real issues are in people's lives. So I can help people with Your power, and not just with words. And Father, I need to be certified as Your minister, with the resources necessary so that I can help, feed, counsel, intercede, and care for anyone You give me.

Father, here I am, send me.
